

In an era of geopolitical volatility, Europe needs to maintain sovereignty; it cannot afford fragmentation or complacency. Completing the EU Single Market is the safest, fastest, and most powerful way to strengthen Europe's economy, a necessary condition to increase its security and better protect its citizens. It is the continent's largest low-risk, high-return growth opportunity, but it needs political will by all actors and across the institutions.

Led by the newly founded Jacques Delors Friends of Europe Foundation, 'One Europe, One Market – For All' wants to offer joint platform for progress for economic, social, academic and institutional actors – from businesses and trade unions to universities, civil society, financial and EU institutions. Together, this Platform for Progress will allow open exchange of perspectives and jointly support one timeline and one shared ambition: unlock Europe's full potential by completing the Single Market between now and 2028.

The Platform's mission is to mobilise public and political demand for progress, provide expert solutions and legislative input, demonstrate what works and hold institutions accountable for measurable advances.

It supports action across three strategic sectors and three essential enablers, which follow the recommendations of the Letta report, align with the European Commission's State of the Union 2025 address and support the European Council's agenda for competitiveness and resilience.

One Europe, One Market – action framework

Jacques Delors Friends of Europe Foundation

The Platform for Progress is brought to life by the JDFOE Foundation, the first pan-European think tank, advocacy and communications powerhouse and citizen engagement group.

We fuse innovative ideas with civic engagement to accelerate Europe's response to global challenges. We are a permanent pan-European platform that connects Europe's brightest minds, boldest leaders and most engaged citizens for fast, scalable and systemic solutions.

Our approach is defined by three pillars

We innovate policies on strategic issues, bridging research with real delivery.

We create impact by amplifying ideas across Europe.

We engage with decision-makers, stakeholders and citizens.

The Foundation brings Friends of Europe together with the Jacques Delors Institutes in Paris, Berlin and Brussels, as well as leading academic institutions in Madrid and Rome to complete the European Single Market, starting now until the end of 2028.

Roadshow for political momentum

Starting with its launch in October 2025, the Foundation and its partners have taken action to create momentum with their campaign 'One Europe, One Market - For all'. Led by Enrico Letta's engagement with European policy-makers ahead of and during the Alden Biesen Council retreat, several policymakers debates in the first quarter of 2026 explored key topics and specific sectors. A number of papers published by the JDFOE Foundation network underpinned the intellectual content of the debate. The Platform for Progress will provide the opportunity for stakeholders to engage and drive action during 2026, 2027 and 2028.

The 'One Europe. One Market.' roadshow will bring the agenda to European capitals to accelerate governmental action, underpinned by policy insights, citizen engagement and communications:
